Working men of all countries, unite!

First published in 1848, The Communist Manifesto is one of the most influential pieces of writing of all time. Written by two leading German philosophers whose names are now universally known, The Communist Manifesto is a documentation of class struggle and the plight of workers under capitalism, and a call for redress.

In it, Marx and Engels lay out a searing account of the damage wrought by capitalism, and set out a route towards an alternative: a society without class, private property or a state. Beating a path for revolution and the overthrow of capitalism, The Communist Manifesto is a stirring call to arms that resounds with truth and power today.

*'The words of The Communist Manifesto flare like the fiery writing on the wall above the crumbling bastions of capitalist society.'*

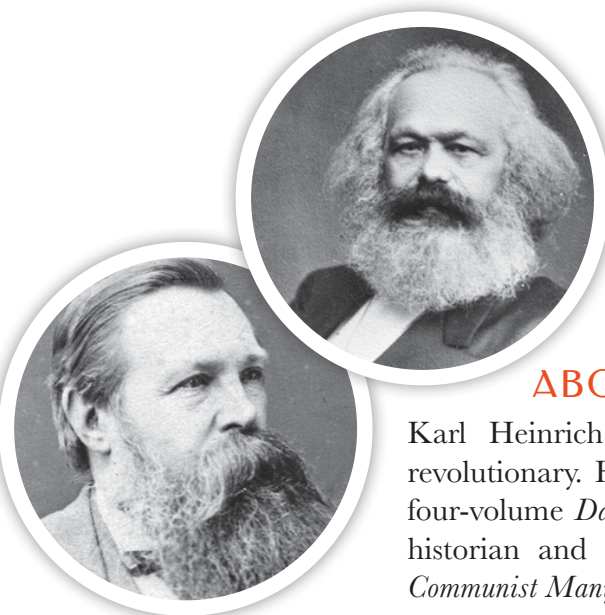

ROSA LUXEBURG

'As a force for change, its influence has been surpassed only by the Bible. As a piece of writing, it is a masterpiece.'
